

City of Morrow hosts successful "Sustainable Leadership" Conference

On May 21, 2013, seventy-five (75) local Officials, Business Executives, Government employees and Law Enforcement leadership attended the "Sustainable Leadership" conference with Dr. Jeffrey Magee PDM, CSP, CMC.

Dr. Magee has been referred to as one of today's leading "Leadership & Marketing Strategists". He is a Certified Speaking Professional, a Certified Management Consultant, a Certified Professional Direct Marketer, and a Best Selling Author. He presented three topics of relevance in the current economic climate to leaders including how to look at "Performance Execution" (Title of one of his four best-seller books), communicating cross-generationally, and sustaining business for longevity.

Dr. Magee's high energy presentation kept the conference participants engaged, and at times laughing. Morrow City Manager, Jeffrey Eady commented how proud he was that the City was able to host such a positive event. It provided staff quality training at a reasonable cost and showcased the value of the Morrow Conference Center. Comments received from participants have been extremely positive about the conference and the service/venue. Several participants have asked to be informed when the City of Morrow hosts other training activities.

The City of Morrow thanks our Sponsors: Gold - Banker's Fidelity (Bill Cash- Agent), Silver - Republic Sanitation, Silver- American International Institute of Polygraph, and Bronze - Morrow Business & Tourism Association. Additionally, special mention to the Georgia Chief's Association for their support in giving leadership training credit for law enforcement who attended, and also thanks to the many participants, both government and private, who attended the conference.
